b. The imitation of the trade-marks, trade names, slogans, or other marks of identification of competitors, constitutes a violation of this code.

SEC. 6. Credit.—The purchase of, or subscription to an interest in, capital stock or other obligation of a present or potential customer, where the intent is to furnish goods in payment under conditions which violate provisions of this code applying to credit extensions, terms of payment, secret rebates and allowances, or under conditions which are obviously designed to conceal the true nature of transactions between seller and buyer, is a violation of this code.

SEC. 7. Modification of this Article.—Any and/or all provisions of this article may be amended, altered, repealed, or added to by a majority vote of the recognized members of the Marking Devices Industry, through their duly elected representatives subject to approval of the Administrator.

TO ALL MEMBERS OF THE MARKING DEVICES INDUSTRY:

The regular Annual Convention of the International Stamp Manufacturers Association (The Marking Devices Industry) was held at the Edgewater Beach Hotel, June 19, 20, and 21. Action of the greatest importance to this industry was taken by the members present, in preparing the Agreement and Code of Fair Competition to file with the President's Administrator in Washington, D. C., under the National Industrial Recovery Act.

The Convention was well attended and the Agreement and Code of Fair Competition, together with a Code of Business Ethics, received unanimous approval of those present, who later signed the Agreement which was passed around in the meeting.

It is the belief of our Convention that President Roosevelt is a square shooter, sincere, honest, and conscientious in his desire to see American business and industry in a position to make enough money to employ all available workers who want to work. It is also our belief that it was up to us to be cooperative and just as sincere as the President. We all feel that we have at last been given an opportunity to do something constructive for the health and continuance of our industry, collectively and separately, and that we should all go into it whole-heartedly and so far as possible, without reservations.

As time is the very essence of the Emergency Act and as the Federal authorities are calling upon us to file all required information at the earliest possible moment, we ask every member of the industry to put himself to work earnestly and helpfully for a few days, until we have the information necessary to complete schedules that will put us all in line to secure the benefits which should come to us through the Recovery Act. Copies of agreement, codes, and questionnaire with instructions and explanations will be sent to each member of the industry for his consideration and action. Will you be kind enough to give them your immediate attention?

Sincerely yours,

J. R. SWIFT,
President, International Stamp Manufacturers Association.

Any subscriber to this Code, any employee of any member of the Industry, or any purchaser of any of the products of the Industry, may enter a complaint (or complaints) of violation of this Code, providing such complaint is presented in writing to the Executive Secretary of the Association, giving the nature of the complaint in detail, supported by all the available evidence thereon.

The Executive Secretary shall, on receipt of such complaint, notify the alleged violator, and request his answer. Whenever, in the judgment of the Board of Directors or the Emergency National Committee, it shall be deemed necessary, the Executive Secretary shall refer such report of violation to the Chairman of the Committee having jurisdiction over the particular branch of the Industry in which the alleged violator operates.

Copies of the complaint, of the evidence, and of the answer, shall be furnished to the Chairman of the Committee having jurisdiction, to the complainant, and to the alleged violator, in identical form and manner.

The Chairman shall set a date for a hearing on the case, to be held not later than two weeks after the receipt by him of the complaint, and he shall immediately endeavor to adjust a settlement thereof, either alone or in consultation with the members of the Committee.

In case such procedure fails to settle the matter to the satisfaction of both parties, all papers relating to the case with recommendations by the Committee of the Branch, shall be placed before the Emergency National Committee, either because of their desire so to do or on request from either party to the controversy and the Emergency National Committee shall consider the case.

It is presumed that all members of the industry having subscribed to the Agreement and Code of Fair Competition under the Recovery Act, desire to comply with all of its provisions, including Exhibit D, the Code of Business Ethics of the Industry. It is also presumed that violations will be due to misunderstanding or misinterpretation or perhaps to circumstances beyond the control of the alleged violator. Hence it is the desire of this Industry to give each seeming offender full notice and fair opportunity to defend himself, without resorting to the more expensive and devious recourses of law.

With this in mind it is proposed that we shall first resort to moral suasion, then to arbitration, and then to the exactment of full penalties under the law.

In those cases where we resort to arbitration, the complainant shall choose an arbitrator, the defendant shall choose an arbitrator, and these two arbitrators so named shall choose a third.

These three arbitrators then shall receive and consider all the facts of the case and their decision shall be final or at least a consideration precedent to any further action taken.

If the Emergency National Committee should be called upon to consider a case of violation and its decision upholds the complaint, the violator shall be notified to cease and desist such or similar violations. If the violator fails to comply with such orders the Association may notify all subscribers to this Code as to the complaint, the decision rendered, and the facts in connection with any continuing violation. In case such publicity should fail to stop the violation, the Association may refuse all further Associational services to the violator and notify all members of the Industry of such action.

Violators shall be notified that a second violation will subject them to having both the first and second violations referred to the proper authorities, for prosecution by the Administrator under the Provisions of the Recovery Act.

Should there be any expense involved in ascertaining the justice of the complaint, such as an audit of the violator's records, etc., such expense must be borne by the violator, if the complaint is found justified and an actual violation found, and such expense must be borne by the complainant if the violation be found not to exist.
